Community Service Project Hours – Level 4 Facilities & Probation

The Department of Correction maintains an aggressive work schedule in support of public initiatives, civic functions, and community-based activities. Inmate work crews from the Plummer Community Corrections Center, the Morris Community Corrections Center and the Sussex Community Corrections Center participate in a variety of community service projects. Additionally, offenders on probation are ordered or volunteer to participate in community service as part of their sentences or to pay off court fines and/or costs. In calendar year 2000, offenders provided nearly 150,000 hours of community service. Valued at minimum wage, Delaware communities saved $723,501 in equivalent labor expenses. Community service projects instill in offenders good work ethics and disciplines. Community service helps an offender to feel connected to the community. This aids in the offender's transition back to society.
